Dear Mr. Sanchez:

Re: Notice of Noncompliance, Mining Without Notice, Dusty Claims, S/037/063, San Juan County, Utah

I recently spoke with Mr. Ted McDougall of the San Juan Area Office of the Bureau of Land Management. He informed me that he had run across some recent mining disturbance on an area where you hold several claims. These claims follow: Roxie 1-8, Patsy 1-8, Dusty 5 and 6, Sam 1-8, Dusty 1-4, Dusty 7 & 8, 9 & 10.

No mining notice was ever filed with this office or the BLM. Such activity in the state of Utah requires notification at the time of mining or exploration, and requires reclamation at the end of such activities. Since you are the legal claim holder, the State will hold you responsible for the required reclamation work at this site. The State does have the authority to initiate legal action if reclamation requirements are not met at this site.

If you have leased the property to another party responsible for the mining activity, please notify us of such.

You were sent copies of our rules and forms on April 26, 1989, so you should be informed as to our requirements.

Please contact this office, in writing, or by phone within 15 days of the date of this letter. I can be reached at the phone number or address above.

Sincerely,

Holland Shepherd
Reclamation Officer
